

Getting a license key

FiveM and RedM servers require you to get a license key from the FiveM website, the guide below will show you how you can generate a license key to use on your server.

Step 1

Go to <https://keymaster.fivem.net/> then click on the sign in link to login or create an account

Step 2

To create a new license key click on New in the navigation bar

Step 3

Enter the details requested, you can find the IP address of your server by going to the Access page of the panel

Step 4

Click on the generate button

Step 5

In the details section of the page that loads click on copy then paste the text into the License Key field in the settings of your server.
